Buttner Succumbs to Endemic Form of Disease; Did Not Get It in Juarez.

U. S. immigration inspector Morris S. Buttner died Sunday night of typhus fever, after being ill 13 days. Although inspector Buttner made the inspection in Juarez of the military hospitals in search of typhus, Dr. J. V. Tappan, U. S. health officer, declared Monday morning that the inspector did not contract the disease in Juarez.

"As far as I know, inspector Buttner did not get the disease in Juarez," said Dr. Tappan. "The fact is we do not know where he did get the disease, but from our investigations are satisfied that he contracted it while working among some Mexicans on this side. There is no typhus in Juarez that we know of. He did not get the disease while making the inspection of the Juarez military hospitals. Of that we are sure. Typhus develops within 12 days after the bite of the typhus mouse, and inspector Buttner made his last inspection in Juarez on January 24. It was impossible for him to have developed the disease as late as February 16.

"His case was the mild, or endemic, form of typhus, which exists under the name of Brilla's disease in many cities of the country where there are immigrants, crowding and lice. New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Kansas City and Chicago have the disease in its endemic form the year round and Mt. Sinai hospital in New York has been treating it for years. Albuquerque at the present time, I understand, has two cases of endemic typhus.

Morris Samuel Buttner was a native of Tucson, Ariz., and the son of Adolph Buttner, of that city. He was 44 years and three months old at the time of his death and had been a resident of El Paso for four years, being married to Mrs. Julia Garcia. He was a widower and had 11 children, ten boys ranging in age from 20 years down to 18 months, and one daughter. The funeral will be held this afternoon and will be private. The case was isolated and the health authorities say there is no danger of the disease spreading.

H. B. STEVENS' AUTO BREAKS DOWN; MAROONED OVER NIGHT
When H. B. Stevens and family failed to return from a trip to the Salt lakes of El Paso county Sunday night, friends of the family man became worried and were preparing to send a rescue party out to search for them Monday afternoon when a telephone message was received from the Helms ranch, 60 miles northeast of El Paso, saying that Mr. Stevens had arrived there after his car had broken down and that he would reach El Paso with his family late this evening.

When Mr. Stevens left Sunday morning at 9 o'clock with Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Margaret Kinnon, and Margaret Stevens, he expected to return Sunday night and took no provisions for a stay over night. When the party did not return Sunday night or Monday morning, Mrs. Stevens and Z. P. White started making plans for sending out a rescue party. R. H. Binehart, C. H. Lester, Tolbert Bros., Lawrence Stevens and Tom White arranged to drive their cars out in search of the missing family.

While the expedition was preparing to start at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon the long distance message was received saying that the car had been repaired and they were starting home.

No action on petition. No action has been taken on the petition of 300 property owners and residents in the vicinity of the new district, asking that the "neutral zone" not be created in the Mexican quarter. ## GERMANY MILDLY PLAN TO EXEMPT SLAPS GERARD MANY FROM TAX

Prussian War Minister Replies to Diplomat's Criticism of Prison Camps.

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 26.—The Prussian war minister has handed to Jas. W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, a long communication in which courteous reply is made to the ambassador's report of Nov. 8 regarding the Wiltberg prison camp.

German high military authorities were astonished, the reply says, when they saw portions of the ambassador's report printed in distorted fashion in the English press. It declared that Mr. Gerard had communicated his criticism to the Prussian war minister through John B. Jackson, who investigated prison camp conditions for the ambassador.

The communication refers to Mr. Gerard's statement which "was obviously made in a reproachful sense," that when he visited the Wiltberg camp he was not received by the camp commander.

"The German military authorities are fully aware of the courtesy due the ambassador because of his position," the reply says, adding the explanation that the commander of the camp was compelled by military duties to be absent on the day of the visit of the ambassador.

The communication points out that Mr. Gerard reports the accommodations and fare of the prisoners were the same as those in other camps. English paper reports, allegedly based on the ambassador's statement, represented conditions at Wiltberg as "extraordinarily unsatisfactory."
